

Computer Science Transition Work

During A Level Computer Science you will be expected to become familiar with some new programming languages. There is no reason why you can't start learning straight away!

The languages we study are:

- C#
- JavaScript
- PHP

To get a head start you can:

- Look for tutorials online using YouTube. You can code in repl.it using all three languages just like you did with Python at GCSE.
- Or you can try the free courses at www.codecademy.com

Good luck!
